

Northdoor is an award-winning IT consultancy based in London with a strong focus on delivering tailored technology solutions and managed services to the financial services and banking community. With over three decades of experience, we have honed our expertise in providing crucial infrastructure and data services that empower blue-chip organisations within the financial sector to safeguard, optimise, and capitalise on their data assets.

Our involvement with the Hellios community, particularly as gold sponsors of FSQS (Financial Services Qualification System), underscores our commitment to excellence and compliance within the financial services industry. We offer a comprehensive range of IT services, including AI, analytics, cloud solutions, cyber security, and more, designed to help financial institutions thrive in a rapidly evolving landscape.

Being a member of the Hellios community has facilitated our growth and enabled us to better serve our clients by staying at the forefront of industry standards and best practices.

We take pride in assisting financial organisations in adapting to emerging technologies, regulatory changes, and market disruptions, ultimately helping them achieve greater resilience, cost-efficiency, and agility.

Registering as a supplier within the Hellios community, particularly with FSQS, has been an important journey for Northdoor. The process has been characterised by meticulous evaluation and stringent compliance checks, greatly enhancing our standing as a trusted technology partner within the financial services sector.

Through the registration process, we have thoroughly examined our IT services, data management practices, and cyber security protocols. This scrutiny has reaffirmed our commitment to delivering first-class solutions and allowed us to identify areas for continuous improvement.

Furthermore, being part of the Hellios community has opened up invaluable networking opportunities, enabling us to engage with like-minded industry leaders and stay current with industry trends and evolving compliance requirements. This affiliation has also strengthened our reputation as a key IT partner with a deep understanding of the unique challenges faced by financial institutions.

Overall, registering as a supplier with Hellios has been a mutually beneficial experience, enhancing our credibility while allowing us to contribute to the continued growth and success of the financial services sector.

“Registering as a supplier with Hellios communities, particularly FSQS, has been transformative for our business. It’s not just about compliance; it’s about being part of a trusted network that drives innovation, fosters collaboration, and elevates industry standards. Our involvement has enriched our expertise and bolstered our reputation as a dependable partner within the financial services community.”

AJ Thompson
CCO, Northdoor